

How Cows do Moo

Reg Down
© Copyright 2014

All rights reserved. No part of this publication, in part or in whole may be reproduced, transmitted or utilized in any form, without the permission of the author, except for brief quotations in critical articles and reviews.

“Silly Willy! Silly Willy! How do cows moo?” asked Peekaboo.
“Oh, that’s complicated,” said Silly Willy. “You wouldn’t understand how cows do moo.”

“I will. I will,” said Peekaboo.

“It’s like this,” said Silly Willy. “Every morning on every farm in every country every farmer goes out to every cow and pumps their tail up and down.”

“I see,” said Peekaboo. “Then what?”

“That fills them with air,” said Silly Willy. “Just like a balloon.”

“I see,” said Peekaboo. “Then what?”

“That’s it,” said Silly Willy. “All they have to do is open their mouths and out comes a mooooooooo. That’s how cows do moo.”

“I see,” said Peekaboo. “And how come you don’t moo since you are filled with hot air too?”

“Don’t be silly,” said Silly Willy. “I don’t have a tail.”